The inoneys advanced by the Government for the purposes mentioned in Mr. Cullom's resolution, up to January 1st, 1886, foot up the snug little sum of $207,123.84.

to January 1st, 1880, foot up the snug Ill-tie sum of $297,120,84.

Shortly after the Legislature convened, Governor Murray called the attention of that body to the fact that Utah was in-debted to the General Government in the above-named sum for moneys advanced and disbursed as indicated in Mr. Callom's resolutions, and he unged that receivious he made at this assession for Callom's resolutions, and he urged that provision be made at this session for liquidating the debt. Whe Legislature, however, has been in session for fifty-five days and as yet not a move has been made toward making any such provision. It is doubtful, indeed, if the members of the Legislature have at any time given the matter a second thought, and it is questionable if, even in the face of the means which a second abugar, and a second the means which the Government now proposes to resort to to partially reimburse itself for the moneys it has advanced, these pig-headed Mormons will do a solitary thing looking toward an honorable settlement of the

In this connection it is amusing to read he blustering remarks which some of the Mormon papers indulged in at the time the members of the Assembly were urged to give the matter their attention.

Uncle Sammel is a most indulgent Guardian, but it is quite evident that he begins to realize that the Territory of Urah, under Mormon control, has shamefully abused his indulgence. He deem't propose to take out his just dues in merely charging, as this miserable Mormon apologist for dishonesty says he will have to do, but he proposes to be reimbursed in full for all the sams he has advanced, and if a Mormon Legislature will not come his his just dues to be substituted for the education of the rising generation in being the beautiful that the Schale declined to the the same of the superintendence of a gentleman whose subsidior it will be to see that all opening the superintendence of the rising generation in being the beautiful that the Schale declined to each of the rising generation in being the beautiful that the Schale declined to each of the three superintendence of a gentleman whose subsidior it is just as well that the Schale declined to each of the rising generation in being the proposer. in full for all the sums he has advanced, and if a Mormon Legislature will not return him his money, a Gentile Legis-lature will. By withholding the compen-sation of the officers and members of the present Assembly, some twenty old thousand dollars will have been covered back into the treasure, and that will be a starter for the liquidation of the whole amount.

He must be an ignoramus indeed who He must be an ignoramits indeed who, like the Herald, man, advances the idea that the Territory cannot be compelled to pay such indebtedness as this. If a Territory can construe its own sins of omission into good cause for r-padiating its indebtedness in a case like this, then have we reached a pretty pass indeed. The money will have to be paid dollar for dollar, and it is the height of absurd-ity for the members of the Lexislature to and would shortly ask the early action of the Senate Committee on Public Lands on the resolution calling on the Secretary of the Interior for all the papers relating to the removal of Humpbrey McMaster as Land Begister in this city, and the appointment of David Webb to succeed him.

In an interview with a Desuchar reporter the day following the receipt of this dispatch, Mr. McMaster stated that he had made no effort whatever to be retained in office; that he knew nothing of the object which Senator Walthall had in view in calling for the papers in his case, and that, as no charges had been filed against him, under the discussion, he felt that the fact of his removal did not east any reflection tipsin his integrity or compotency as an officer. That was sensible view to take of the case.

In the Chicago Inter-Ocean, however, we find a Washington dispatch under this suspension was due to charge preferred against him, but was never given any information as to what they greated the present or some other interesting the present or some other.

JUDGE SPRAGUE'S ANSWER.

U. S. Commissioner Spragne sends in the following for publication. In this connection, the Denocaar desires to say that it has nothing to add to its remarks of yesterday, and therefore leaves the controversy where it now belongs—be-tween Commissioner Sprague and our tween Commissioner Sprague and our Republican contemporary. The columns of the Democrar, however, are always open to dispassionate discussion of cur-rent events, and we gladly give space to Judge Sprague's communication:

Eorton Drasocan: I am glad to see that the Tribuse is at lead doing fised justice, not so completely as it coght, but to a very commendable degree.

It now avows plainly, so plainly at least that he who runs may read, that court that he who runs may read, that relative to their duty, rather than to higher courts which are only able to reverse them. I quote from its nitide of this morning:

"As a matter of fact, a newspaper has noore resources to draw upon than courts are apit to have, and can command at will full as good technical legal advice as the judge on the bench has in himself, or can reach."

The Tribuse in terms makes this claim for newspapers generally, instead of for itself specially. I should infer that this is prompted by its undue modesty, were it not that the News takes substantially the same position. One of the too instruct the people merely; and also in that the Tribuse peases on both the expediency and validity of the judgment of courts, while the News supervises the constitutionality chiefly.

THE EDUCATION BILL.

Senator Blair's education bill, which has stood on the calendar as unfinished business since the 9th sit, passed the Senate yesterday by a vots of 26 ayes to 11 mass, four Republicans voting against it. The House will now get a whack at it, and many of the most influential it, and many of the most influential journals of the cointry assert that it cannot receive favorable consideration in that body unless radically amended. whose umbition it will be to see that all possible facilities are afforded for the education of the rising generation in benighted Zion, it is just as well that the Senate declined to make an exception in the case of Utah, and give her portion of the proposed appropriation into the hands of the Secretary of the Interior for disbursement, while in all the other Territories the Legislatures were made the disbursing agents.

A correspondent writes the New York Sea to sak if James G. Blaine was present when Burchard mode his fanous remark about "Ham, Romaniss and Beleditor." The Sea unswers the inquiry as follows: "Haine was standing within three feet of Burchard when the words were uttered; indeed, burchard's remarks were directed to Blaine. Blaine has said since that he was so busy framing an answer that he did not fully appreciate the entire significance of the sentence, ofthough he was conscious that the degree on the first property. UPHOLSTERY

The Mormons have placed themselves in the attitude of disobedient and ungrateful words of their benign old Uncle Sannel, whose bidding they definity and insolently refuse to do, even though he seeks to control their actions simply for their own good. He has stood their "searse" until forbearance has ceased to be a virtue, and now, behold the ingrates about to receive a well-merited walloping: What fools these Mormons be!

The Chicago Herold thinks that Sen-ator Edmunds citation of the case of Charles Las in some manner like that of Grover Cleveland is not pertinent. Charles L lost his head, and in this instance it is the Re-publican office-holders who have lost their beads. It is to be hoped that the Vermoni gentleman will find his one of these days. He works!
